This makes the platform a great channel for attracting new subscribers.

What to post on Twitter?

Twitter allows OnlyFans content but you can't just post any content.

The first thing to do before posting videos or photos on any social network is to know the rules.

In the case of Twitter you can't post violent content, abuse, harassment of minors or incite hatred. If you want to know more about Twitter's rules click here.

As mentioned above, nudity and pornography are allowed on Twitter, but during the last few months there were fake news that Twitter would not allow nudity and pornography.

However, the platform didn't remove these posts and also added the "Super Follow" feature for Content Creators.

•Super Follow is a new feature where users will be able to pay to see exclusive posts from their favorite Content Creators, who can set their tweets to only reach paying subscribers.

This feature is only available in the United States and Canada.

Examples for posting on Twitter.

- You can talk about OnlyFans on Twitter, so include your link in your profile description.

- Use hashtags where your potential subscribers are, some of our recommended hashtags are #sellingcontent #buyingcontent #customcontent #onlyfanspromotion #onlyfanspromotion.

- Do SFS with other accounts offering similar content.

- Send DMs to users who are interested in your content and invite them to your OnlyFans profile.

engagement, so think about creating some.

- Post content every day to engage users who want PPV.
- Analyze trending hashtags or special dates that can bring you new users such as #cybermonday #blackfriday #newyear and others.
- Post offers and promotions with a link to your OnlyFans profile.
- Try Twitter's Super Follow feature!

Keep in mind that the growth of OnlyFans made platforms like Twitter, Snapchat or Instagram include the PPV feature to compete with them.

However OnlyFans monetization statistics are much higher than other platforms.

That's why we recommend you to create a content strategy for each social networks with the objective of sending them to your OnlyFans profile
